

Healing Cancer & Other Degenerative Disease, Naturally

Lecture and Book Signing

Federal Way, Washington:

Meet Bob Wright!

Founder and Director of the American Anti-Cancer Institute a Washington State not-for-profit organization

Bob Wright founded the AACI in 2008 in response to the cancer-epidemic in the United States which mushroomed to plague an estimated 40% of Americans in the year 2010. With help from book sales, monthly subscription-donations and passionate AACI Ambassadors from across the U.S., Canada and world, Mr. Wright is raising awareness and funding to build an American legacy in the state of Washington, destined to turn the cancer-tide for millions of people the world over.

That legacy: the American Anti-Cancer Center — a first-in-class health and wellness Campus, boasting a natural medicine University, an Immune Clinic and Research Institute, on 70+ acres of pristine wilderness in the Pacific Northwest! Complete with organic gardens, greenhouses and more, the Campus grounds will provide year-round produce for patients and guests alike. The Center is designed to teach cancer patients and others the lifestyle/nutritional requirements necessary to strengthen immune function and much, much more. Find out more by visiting the homepage at www.AmericanACI.org > About Us > Mission and Vision.

Bob's book, "Killing Cancer - Not People," his first in a series, sets the foundation for the anti-cancer lifestyle which readers can apply right now for cancer prevention—and in the vast majority of cases, the reversal of this disease. Attendees are treated to a Q&A session after Bob's fascinating lecture.

Date: Saturday, March 3rd

Time: 10:30am to noon; book signing afterwards with one-on-one cancer coaching

Location: Indochine Thai Restaurant: 31406 Pacific Way S., Federal Way

Call for directions only: 253-592-4214

RSVP Hostess Rosalyn Kay to reserve lunch! 206-940-9020

Cost: Free to the public; suggested donation of $5, payable to the AACI